Yanks' Third Victory

The Yanks in the second game of the series with the McKinley Slug-gers brought home the bacon Monday afternoon, winning by the score of 8-1. The teams were evenly matched, and the game was exciting from start to finish. Dixon caught good ball, while Woods pitched a great game. Kampi played exceedingly well at first, hav-ing 8 putouts to his credit. De Rusha made four hits, one a two bagger. Connell played a good game as short. Enos playing at third, made a number of stops and also got 3 hits. Wilco the opposing pitcher was knocked out of the box in the fourth, and was replaced by Disco, Spotton and O'Neil played great ball in the garden. The Yanks challenge any team in the city of Norwich, under 15 years of age. Answer through this paper.

Pasnik's Salt Cellars Perfected. Alex M. Pasnik states that he has at last perfected the salt and pepper shakeless cellars so that they work perfect. He says: "On February 1, 1921, a patent was granted to me. Like everything else practice makes perfect. We had many complaints about parts that did not work to perfection and that did not take the heart of me , but went to work harder than ever before on the very article which I though was perfect, which practical use did not prove so. Here are the improvements we have made: The old metal rod was replaced with a bone celluloid combination rod. The spring which was formerly made of iron is now made of steel and connected to the push button so you can yot loosen the spring. The old screw dap which was formerly made of brass is now replaced with a white metal cap without threads. This does away with the trouble of crossabout so that it now works perfect and will eventually be on every table.
